ARGUES
TREATYWorld Hangs on U. S.
Decision and Fruits of Victory in Danger.

OPPOSES AMENDMENT

Senator Smoot Will Vote Against the Shantung Amendment.WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—In voting against the Shantung amendment, Senator Phelan declared he was considering American interests and was not indulging in hatred of Japan or seeking to injure her, through fear or resentment."If an uncompromising attitude on our part should alienate Great Britain and France and force them to stand for Japan, pursuant to their treaty obligations," said Senator Phelan, "it might jeopardize the success of the league of nations itself and the treaty of peace with Germany, which embodies the fruits of victory.""Japan and China, if united in war, would be a great menace to America and Europe. Would it not be a real diplomatic achievement to keep Japan apart which, while it is far from this purpose, is at this time actually accomplished by the Shantung incident.""I do not see how the question of Japanese immigration and naturalization is involved in this matter at all. We will not consent to 'race equality.' It was rejected at Paris. These are domestic questions with which the league has no concern, and last there be a doubt under Article XI as to the power of the league to take jurisdiction I am in favor of eliciting interpretative resolutions on the subject."Senator Phelan said that in approaching discussion of the question raised by the Shantung amendment he was not "ignorant of the dangers that lurk in Japanese dominancy in the Pacific," adding that by any legitimate means he "would check her advance and would turn her armies back to Asia where they belong."In urging defeat of the Shantung amendment, Senator Phelan, California Democrat, declared American interests were not only embraced in the preservation of peace "but in eradicating the cause of the Japanese imbroglio.""If Japan must expand then her expansion in Shantung, by agreement with China, is more acceptable to us than her expansion in America," Senator Phelan said. "She has inaugurated a steamship service which dominates the Pacific and is landing her nationals upon North and South American shores. If we exclude Japanese from America as a wise national policy then we should not be naively alarmed about Shantung. The league of nations will prevent her forcible expansion in the future and Japan is a member of the league. For this purpose we must keep her there."Senator Smith, Democrat, Georgia, and Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, announced they would vote against the amendment. They said the point could be covered in reservations.Also opposing the amendment, Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, said its adoption only would serve to keep the United States out of a treaty which already virtually was in force. Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, called attention to Paris reports that the treaty's ef-fectuation had been postponed indefinitely, but Senator Sterling said the delay apparently was temporary and did not change the situation.Senator Watson said a reservation on the Shantung provision would have his support.Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, denied that there had been bad faith in the Shantung settlement. Japan held the German Shantung concessions by right of arms, he said, and the allies were under no obligation to reveal to the United States their secret treaties on the subject.Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois, gave the senate some of his reasons for supporting the amendment."I'll vote for any amendment that comes along, consistent or inconsistent," said Senator Sherman. "And when they're all in I'll vote to throw the whole thing into the alley."Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, said he would vote for the Shantung amendment and if it was defeated he then would "vote for the strongest possible reservation declaring our abhorrence of this unjustifiable outrage."Senator Johnson, Republican, California, said there was almost an unanimous sentiment that the Shantung settlement was "immoral and infamous."Denouncing the secret Shantung settlements, Senator Johnson said Great Britain and France had violated their solemn obligation by not advising the United States of the terms of those treaties."The peace of Paris," he continued, "was presumed to have been made upon the basis of these secret treaties."PLASTERERS' NEW SCALE.
Okmulgee, Okla.—Plasterers' union No.
457 has effected the following arrangements with employers: Foremen, $11 a day; plasterers, $10, and finishers, $9.
These figures represent an increase of $1 a day for each classification named.Too often when the heart is willing the pulse is weak.HARRY FOTOS RECOVERS FROM OPERATION
AT HOSPITALHarry Fotos, whose place of business is at 187 Twenty-fifth street, was successfully operated on at the Dea hospital Tuesday, October 7, and is rapidly recuperating.Mr. Fotos is especially grateful to all friends and to the hospital attendants who gave him exceptional attention during his illness.The specific points of peace iterated and reiterated by the president of the United States and accepted by the world."I am sure all of us approved when the president said every territorial settlement must be made in the interests of the populations affected. Are we seeking now to uphold that principle or to find a way of escape from it?"

Exchange of Treaties.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The exchange of German peace treaty ratifications putting the convention into effect is expected to take place early next week, according to semi-official French sources today.It is explained that the delay in the formal exchange of ratifications was caused by the amount of mechanical work necessary in preparing the documents.

URUGUAY ENDORSES TREATY.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Wednesday, Oct. 15.—The Uruguayan house of representatives today voted approval of the treaty of peace between the allied and associated nations and Germany.Water Suits Are Commenced in District CourtAdjudication of the water rights of the south fork of the Ogden river is asked in a complaint filed yesterday in the district court. The plaintiffs claim having priority extending back to 1890. The plaintiffs in the case are The Co-op Farm Irrigation company, Joseph Barker Co., Ogden Home Builders Co., William Burrows, James Sur-ridge, Harry DeYoung, Isaac E. Smith and Harvey Wanggaard.The defendants in the suit are Huntsville Irrigation company, Mountain Canal association, Downs Ditch Water company, Felt-Peterson-Salter Irrigation company, Emmertson Irrigation company, Daniel Allen, John H.
Wilson, Peter Rollo, Carl F. Johnson, William H. Downs and Mrs. William H. Downs.The plaintiffs seek prior right to 20 second feet on the low flow of the stream and 40 second feet on the high flow of the stream and also ask an injunction against the removal, cutting or destroying of dams.Weather Favorable For the FarmersReporting Utah weather conditions propitious for good fall farm work, J. Cecil Alters of the United States weather bureau, has issued the following in his weekly bulletin:"The growing season for practically all crops was terminated abruptly by heavy to killing frosts on Thursday and Friday of last week, the most important crops affected being tomatoes. There was little or no rain, and other weather conditions were rather favorable for fall work generally, particularly the growth of winter wheat, the seeding of fall grain, the digging of beets and potatoes and the picking of fruit. The soil generally is reported in good condition for fall plowing and seeding, except that it is too dry in parts of San Juan county. Fall pastures and the winter forage outlook are fair to good as a rule, though it is still dry in parts of San Juan, Garfield and Millard counties. The western Utah sheep range will be fair to good when snow comes. Lamb and cattle shipping continues from many regions, the stock being in fairly good condition. There has been a general livestock movement toward the winter ranges, nearly all stock having reached the winter ranges adjacent to the Powell National forest."INTRODUCED INNOVATION.
Atlantic City, N. J.—The state federation which opened its sessions in this city recently introduced an innovation by inviting representatives of capital as well as labor officials to address its delegates during its sessions. Among those invited is the president of the New Jersey chamber of commerce, the Manufacturers' association and the Manufacturers' council.
President Gompers is also expected to address the federation during the meeting.The "pen" is mightier than the county
